

	(c)	<pre>$servername = "db.hbh.com" $username = "Harvey" $password = "£dxG67*" $dbase = "hairbyharvey" $conn = mysqli_connect($servername, $username, $password, $dbase)</pre> Acceptable alternative: <pre>$conn = mysqli_connect ("db.hbh.com", "Harvey", "£dxG67*", "hairbyharvey")</pre>	2	1 mark for correct use of <code>mysqli_connect()</code> to assign connection to <code>$conn</code> variable 1 mark for parameters in correct order (server, user, password, database) Note: accept alternative PHP variable names Also: accept alternative solution that doesn't assign connection credentials to PHP variables
--	-----	---	---	--