| | (c) | (i) | Session variables allow values stored in variables to persist across several pages of the website. This means that the values can be used on multiple pages of the site.

Session variables have been used on this page to store details of the car (make and model), customer (name and email). | 2 | 1 mark for use made of session variables

1 mark for details of values being stored in session variables |